Dear Director Casey:

As you may recall, Secretary of Labor Raymond J. Donovan wrote to you on August 27, 1981 requesting that you allow [redacted] a member of your Senior Intelligence Service, to be detailed to the Department of Labor [redacted]

[redacted] You approved a two year detail in your letter dated September 11, 1981. At our request, [redacted] in July, 1983 sought an extension of his detail until June, 1984, which was concurred in by CIA's Executive Director.

Since [redacted] work here is coming to a close, I wanted to thank you for allowing us to have his services and to tell you what an outstanding job he has done. While I realize full well that letters such as this might be construed as pro forma, I want to assure you that is not the case in regards to [redacted]

STAT

While from the career ranks at CIA, [redacted] has over the past three years become an integral part of this agency's senior management team and has helped me tremendously in both carrying out my responsibilities and bringing about the goals set for me by the Secretary and President.

STAT

As he seeks now to return to his "home" at the CIA, I want to ensure that you personally know of the great contribution he has made to the realization of our mutual goals. I know that upon his return he will be even better able to serve you and the CIA as a manager than before. With best regards,

Sincerely, yours,

Thorne G. Auchter
